Cunningham, Who Long Eluded Government Detectives.

FINEST HALF DOLLARS EVER TURNED OUT.

He Is One of the Few Counterfeiters Who Use Steel Dies Instead of Plaster of Paris Mold for Making Money.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, July 29.—Alfred S. Cunning-ham has been a prisoner in the fall since Saturday afternoon, and since the hour of his arrest, for the first time in over four years, Chicago has been free from the cir culation of the test counterfeit half-dollars that ever were put on the market. "The king of the Chicago counterfeiters" is what the government secret service officers call their prisoner, and to support this state-ment they have almost 600 of the bogus coins and the best outfit that was ever Cunningham had eluded the secret service officers since 1898, and is conceded to be one of the shrewdest makers of spurious coins in the country. Capt. Perter and his assistant, A. L. Gallaher, made the arrest in a house at the rear of 55 Morgan street and behind the false wall of a closet there the government detectives found a complete plan and several sacks of counterfeit coins.

Cunningham was one of the few counterfeiters in the country who used steel dies instead of plaster of paris molds for making the coin. As a result the money turned out of his flat was hardly discernible as counterfeit. The half-dollars contained as much pure sliver as the genuine coins of the government and for this reason the maker never had trouble in passing them. He admitted to the secret-service men that he had been making them since 1898. He said he had had no accomplice and had passed a number which he could not estimate. plan and several sacks of counterfeit coins an Inventor.

Cunningham was a machinist by trade and the neighbors who saw him for the last five years going to and from his lonely workshop understood that he was an inventor. His three rooms in the house at the rear of 55 Morgan street, on the third floor, were reached by narrow stalrways and walks which led around the house in front. Occasionally, he invited some old man from the neighborhood to smoke or dirink in his kitchen, but none of his callered that one of the nest counterest. allow any injunction to keep me from supplying the needs of men in distress as long as I have a dollar that can be used in their behalf."

It was suggested to Mr. Wilson that if such an injunction has really been issued the cars containing the provisions might be held up by deputy marshals.

To this Mr. Wilson replied that if such action should be taken the miners organization would have recourse to the courts for damages, and that they would certainly stand on their rights.

There are only two instances in which injunctions to prevent the furnishing of supplies to men on strike has ever been resorted to, and in each case the restraining order was dissolved.

The only contention is whether the state platform of last year will be reaffirmed in its entirety. Objection has been made to the words "We favor any modification of the tariff schedules that may be required the tariff schedules that may be required to prevent their affording shelter to monopoly." Gov. Cummins and his following ministration.

The only contention is whether the state platform of last year will be reaffirmed in its entirety. Objection has been made to the words "We favor any modification of the transport of the tariff schedules that may be required to prevent their affording shelter to monopoly." Gov. Cummins and his following are in favor of the re-enactment of this clause. The majority of the members of the Iowa congressional delegation and a large following in the party, led by Lafayette Young of Polk, are opposed to this clause because of the implied meaning that the tariff is the father of the trusts. The matter of the platform will be made an issue in all of the district caucuses tomorrow morning, with the understanding that

In this arrangement, though, the public has no part.

The men who act for the operators are making the rounds of the city at present of coal held by each dealer. This is an evidence of the trust's intention of keeping the dealers down to a very limited supply ustil the strike ends, while still allowing when to do business.

It is argued that it would never do to have coal disappear entirely, and it will not.

The latter fact is demonstrated by the continued activity at the storage stations of the coal companies. Cars are constantly arriving at the various yards and the reserve of the trust is being steadily put away for emergency uses.

Next week this coal will begin to find its way in very small lots to this city. It will be mere dribbling, but still enough to prevent an absolute famine.

If at all willing the trust could fill all the yards in 24 hours and pull prices down, but that is not the program.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemio nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. Missouri and Illinois bottom farmers are expert mariners, who gather their corn in skiffs except in those off years when there is a drouth.

An eastern humane writer condemns ex-President Cleveland for killing fish. Possibly the number of fish Mr. Cleveland has killed is greatly exaggerated.

A PLAIN DUTY.

In 1899 Dr. Howard Carter, then milk inspector, managed t make a special investigation of dairy conditions. He found only one place used for storing milk beyond criticism.

Dr. Carter reported in that year as follows: my investigation, embracing 331 analyses, 176, or over 53 fraud, it is in reality the most dangerous form of adultera-Epidemics of typhoid and other fevers have at various been traced to this source."

Conditions are admittedly worse now than ever before, and Dr. Carter's warning has augmented force. The House of Delegates has a plain duty to perform. No valid

The action of the House on this matter will directly touch every man, woman and child in St. Louis. It is a matter of personal interest to every citizen and the delegates cannot afford to go unter to a unanimous public desire.

Should the airships prove swift and dirigible in 1904 we shall then have to look out for an airship merger.

WHY NOT FIGHT IT OUT?

Senator Beveridge of Indiana, undismayed by the recent choking he received at the hands of Senator Bailey of Texas, is to invade "the enemy's country" in October, and will make speecher in behalf of the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fifeenth Texas district. Senator Balley will campaign in favor of the Democratic candidate, and an effort will be made to have these youthful and pugnacious senators speak from the same

Is this not merely a subterfuge on the part of the sporting element in Texas politics, on both sides of the fence, to have a "mill" without transgressing the law against what we Missourians euphemistically call "boxing contests?" It would fetching summer reading. the easiest thing in the world to transform a public plat- The Japanese fowl that has a tail 12 feet long is entitled to a form into a roped arena, and to change a senatorial toga into a high roost at the World's Fair. stume; and with those same fists with which they beered each other on the floor of the United States Senate these two gingery solors could swat each other in a series of beautiful souts all over a whole congressional district, fighting to make a feat Jeffries has been completely knocked out. Such a series would determine definitely which is the better nan, and we would be able to formulate an answer to that mooted question: "Did Beveridge fall, or was he pushed?"

Political harangues, at the best, are little more than verbal lambastings of the opposition. Why cannot the question of the election of a congressman from the Fifteenth Texas district be to Balley and Beveridge, just as the issue between the He- was in it. brews and their oppressors was decided, centuries ago, by David and Goliath?

If Bailey and Beveridge meet on the stump in Texas it must understood that there is to be no more lunging.

CYCLONE-PROOF HOUSES.

A Frenchman has discovered a building material which should so as near cyclene-proof as anything yet found within the bounds of cheapness. It is known as "ciment arme," of strengthened cement. Iron or steel wires are imbedded in cement, and it been found that the wires thus imbedded do not rust. A building made of this material, with connected wires all through and the cement practically one rock, all round and through every dividing wall, would, perhaps, be stronger than anything yet known in architecture. Even the roof could be made one with the walls, and with iron shutters to the windows, the people in ride would feel reasonably safe.

But there are persons who claim that no strength of wall of oof can withstand a cyclone, and point to the fact that big blocks of stone on Eads bridge were cast down in 1896. The mortar or cement between these blocks was certainly weakened by constant vibration for years. Our "ciment arme" would have bound the parapet of the bridge into one mass, had it been

A suggestion might be made to the pessimists who look upon a tornado as irresistible. They might build their houses of the new material, in thape of a huge sphere. By sinking half the sphere into the earth for a cellar, very little would be left for the wind to grip. Such unique houses would give Missouri an imperishable reputation, being proof against anything but a plane tary catastrophe.

CHICAGO JUDGE SO DECIDES

AN ODD INJUNCTION GRANTED AGAINST A WILD WEST SHOW.

Decision of Court Based on Property Right in Name Claimed by the Fair Plaintiff.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 29.—Of all the girls with red hair, just one girl, only one, is "The Girl With the Auburn Hair." For three years "The Girl With the Auburn Hair" has responded to that name only, and has guarded it faithfully. In her petition she told the judge that her sacred property was in danger. The only "Girl With the Auburn Hair" proved to the judge that the following announcement has been made in connection with a street show to be given in South Chicago under the direction of Nonpareil Lodge No. 361, Knights of Pythlas: Temple Theater.

rested by the capillary covering for her beautiful head.

"Let the injunction issue," said the judge gravely, and then added jocosely, reverting to the central theme, "it isn't every girl that can boast of having auburn hair." Maybe he meant, "It isn't every girl who would," although ever since the days of Queen Bess, when people wore red wigs, there have been many beautiful auburn-haired damsels, as all masculine students of feminine beauty admit.

But in securing the right to the name from her tresses, "The Girl With the Auburn Hair" was compelled to give away something of the mystery which has shrouded her name. For three seasons she has appeared as the most conspicuous singer on the American vaudeville stage, but during all that time has been known only by the mysterious stage name, and introduced to others in her profession as "Miss Auburn."

Mrs. Mallon made a scoop for a fine big blueback her diamond ring fell with a tiny splash into the water.

The crab was forgotten, but the ring could not be seen. Husband and wife fished around in the water for the diamond, but it was no use. They had to give it up when darkness came, but they marked the spot with a net stuck upright in the sand Yesterday they went out again, bent on getting back the ring.

They had a crabnet with its meshes fixed up with mosquito netting, and their idea was to scoop about in the bottom of the creek until they got the ring. For two hours they looked about the bottom around the spot, but not a glimpse of the diamond could they spy. Suddenly a big blue-clawed crab darted underneath the boat.

"I'm going to catch him for luck," declared Mrs. Mallon.

She made a scoop with her net and brought up the crab, and around one of its claws was her ring. So says Mrs. Mallon.

Mrs. Mallon is a good church member, and not a soul in Mattituck doubts the story. She has the ring to show, anyhow, but the crab has passed away in deviled form.

Since that time Maguello's career is a record of the most fearful crimes which have ever been committed in all the wild, chaotic history of the California peninsula. Each new atrocity in the horror of its detail and the boldness of its execution has surpassed the preceding crime. Within the jast three weeks only one stage has gone over the state road and the governor has ordered a posse of "soldates" to accompany the stage until it shall be free from interference.

Thirty Murders in Six Months.

In the past six months over thirty mur-ders have been committed by Maguello's brigands. Hundreds of peaceful settlers have been despoiled of their valuables; cat-tle, sheep and horses have been driven away tle, sheep and horses have been driven away and slaughtered, only a small choice portion of each animal being used. Last week John Westman, a Swede, in the employ of the Guadalupe ranch, was struck on the head with the but end of a rifle and then shot and mutilated by Maguello himself, who plays the leading part and encourages his band to observe no mercy in their blood-thirsty calling. An entire Indian family, consisting of a father, mother and four children, were killed last week near the Vallecitos mission; their thatched huts were burned and the bodies were cast into a spring, where they polluted the water.

Maguello is a pastmaster in the arts of torture. He is a bold, daredevil fellow with far more Intelligence than the average Mexican peon. He is thoroughly familiar with the country and it will be a difficult matter to capture him. The native cholias, or soldier police, are lamentably inefficient. They are largely composed of Indians who are drafted into the military as the punishment for some petty crime. The word "cholia," meaning "shallow-minded," is a good name for the soldates, who are reluctant to enter any undertaking which will involve them in any personal danger. Added to this, they are criminals themselves.

CAIRO, Ill., July 29.—A train which departed from Cairo without two of its intended passengers caused a change in the life plans of Archie B. Moore and Miss Ora B. Wray of Oscar, Ky., Sunday visitors here. When they found that the train on which they expected to go to their homes had left them, they aroused the majf-izage of which they expected to go to their homes had left them, they aroused the majf-izage license clerk and a minister between 10 o'clock and midnight and were married, Boston, Mass, July 29.—America's then is representatives are becoming anxious about the safety of the Davis international tennis cup, which is to be contested for in a few weeks by the English and American teams.

The cause of the anxiety is to be found in the excellent showing of the Doherty brothers, two members of the English aggregation, in the tournament now in progress at Longard, which is the contesting in the first rounds from the best players in the forst and whithout trouble is to play the Englishmen, was one of the set of the players in the forst playing the baseline, had wright chasing about the courc like a distracted rabbit and completely exhausted him in three sets, and the players in the forst playing the baseline, had wright chasing about the courc like a distracted rabbit and completely exhausted him in three sets, to be for the players in the forst playing the baseline, had wright chasing about the courc like a distracted rabbit and completely exhausted him in three sets, to be for the players in the forst playing the baseline, had wright chasing about the courc like a distracted rabbit and completely exhausted him in three sets, to be forced in Malacion with the players in the forst playing the baseline, had wright chasing about the courc like a distracted rabbit and completely exhausted him in three sets the players in the form with the players in the forst playing the baseline, had wright chasing about the courc like From the New York Sun.

Harry Miller, a local policeman, who was stabled in the abdomen, is doing well and will probably recover.

Isaac Fowler, a constable, who was stabbed at Pensauken, near Merchantville, was not seriously hurt.

The body of John Morrissey of Philadelphia, who was shot and killed, is still but the morgue. The body of solin that who was shot and killed, is still the morgue.

The riots which resulted in the murder of Morrissey and the wounding of Goddard and Miller were caused by the bitter feeling engendered through the contest for Congress of H. C. Loudenslager and J. Alpheus Van Sant. Numerous fights occurred in this city and in Pensauken township, near Merchantville, between the adherents of the two candidates. Goddard was shot at the polls in Pensauken and Morrissey and Miller received their injuries in this city. Isaac Fowier, a constable of Pensauken, was stabbed during a melee at Dog Corner in Pensauken township, sides claim a majority of the delegation.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

NATURE'S SUMMER HEALTH GIVER.

It Purifies the Blood and Multiplies the Number of Vital Red Corpuscles, Feeds the Nerves and Tissues and Gives True

Physical Strength.

Weak nerves, exhausted tissue, poor thin blood, impaired digestion and sleep less nights, account for much of the pres ent existing summer misery and suffering. The Animal Was Kept at McGovern's Dear reader, if you are unfortunately numbered amongst the sickly and weak mortals of today, it is now time to awake to a true realization of your danger. The weakening and depressing hot weather will only add to your miseries if you are careless and indifferent.

There is absolute relief and a positive cure for you in Paine's Celery Compound. This wonder-working medicine is successfully conquering such troubles as yours every day. It is a fact verified by able physicians and thousands of testimonials that Paine's Celery Compound makes new, pure blood, builds up the nervous system, regulates digestion, whets the appetite and gives vigor and strength to combat the discomforts of the heated term.

Mrs. J. N. Morgan, Secretary, Md., used Paine's Celery Compound to banish nervous prostration, heart palpitation and insomnia. The great medicine quickly restored physical strength by purifying the blood, bracing the nerves and building up tissue; she says:

"When I began the use of Paine's Celery Compound I was suffering with nervous prostration, had palpitation of the heart and could not sleep. When I first went to bed I would sleep one or two ery Compound I was suffering with nervous prostration, had palpitation of the heart and could not sleep. When I first went to bed I would sleep one or two hours, but would wake with a start. I would get up in the morning feeling worse went to bed. Now, after using Paine's Celery Compound, I can eat and sleep well and wake up in the morn sleep well and wake up in the morning feeling refreshed and strong."

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 29.—With one

corbett. Nobody knows how John made his way to Bond's, but he got there just at daybreak. Everybody in the house was asleep.

On the front porch was a cage with a wildcat in it, the property of Fred R. Swift. The wildcat has been acting as understudy for Bond's watchdog and is letter perfect. When the heavy footfalls of the ponderous John L. came to the ears of the wildcat is growled a hoarse, throaty growildcat is growled a hoarse, throaty growildcat names. Then John L. walked up and kicked the cage. It was a well directed kick. The cage spun across the porch, collided with the wall, broke open and the wildcat jumped out. Wildcat and John L. made a simultaneous movement in the direction of each other, the animal at the same time uttering a scream that woke up everybody in the radius of a mile.

Capt. Bond and McGovern hurried out of the house. They found John L. lying on his back in the yard trying to get the wildcat by the throat.

The agile animal had a double row of sharp teeth burled in Sullivan's leg. Pieces of trousers were scattered all the way from the porch to the lawn and blood from both combatants stained the green grass.

It was necessary to beat the wildcat insensible before it would relinquish its hold on John L. Is leg. By the time this was done the old champion was bellowing like a buffalo in distress.

He insisted that the wildcat had eaten his leg off and wept at the prospect of going through the rest of his life on a crutch.

When convinced that his "props," as he called them, were intact, he submitted to crutch.

When convinced that his "props," as he called them, were intact, he submitted to medical treatment and went to sleep.

The wounds have been cauterized and no serious results are anticipated.

ecial to the Post-Dispatch. NEWPORT, R. I., July 29.-It can be stated on high authority that a marriage will take place between Mr. Reginald D. $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 Vanderbilt, third son of Mrs. Cornelius White and Colored lerbilt, and Miss Kathleen Neilson daughter of Mrs. Frederick H. Neilson. Miss Neilson is a beautiful girl, who has been the object of much attention. Her mother and her sister, Mrs. Arthur T. Kemp, eare celebrated beauties. Reginald Vanderblit has been a pretty lively boy, and it is not the conviction of all that he has yet attained that poise of character desirable at a juncture like this. There is a difference of religion, the Neilsons being Catholics.

Killing on Shiphoard.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Two men are missing from the crew of the fruit steamer Falomo which has just reached port.

Gus Orlin, one of the missing men, was almost instantly killed, his shipmates say, by a blow over the heart, after a quarrel over the possession of a silver spoon. A Spanlard who is alleged to have struck the blow continued his duties as fireman and remained on the Palcmo until she touched at Port-au-Prince. Hayti, when he disappered.
